HOSPITAL IS ACCREDITED FOR 3 YEARS

County Rookie Is Sent To Greensburg

Assignments for 94 new state troopers to be graduated from the State Police Academy at Hershey next Wednesday were announced today by Commissioner Frank C. McCartney.

One Adams County man was included in the list, James W. Albright, Gardners R. 1, who is assigned to Greensburg in Troop A. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Albright, Gardners R. D.

U.S. BONDS AND PEACE CORPS ARE B-P TOPICS

Wilbur A. Bankert, president of the Littlestown State Bank and Trust Company and chairman of the county U.S. Bond Committee, spoke at the National Security dinner of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the YWCA Thursday evening.

Opening with the statement of Alexander Hamilton, first U.S. treasurer, that "the country's debts are the price of liberty," he said one-third of the debt of our country is owned by Uncle Sam.

The federal debt now comprises issues which can be sold on the market or used as collateral to borrow such as treasury bonds, notes, certificates or bills, he said. He explained the Series E and Series H bonds which may be purchased by individuals and urged that countians buy bonds and help distribute the debt. He said: "We can't have peace and its blessings without paying for it. U.S. bonds safeguard the value of our dollar. They give security and protection to the holder and they provide a liquid debt program."

Mr. Dillon also reported the establishment of a medical record dictating service at the direction of the executive committee so that all medical records could be typed. Mrs. Jean Shanelter, Gettysburg, R. D., recently was employed for this purpose and after a training period is expected to begin transcription work about February 1.

CHANGE FISCAL YEAR

The board approved a change in the hospital's fiscal year to July 1 through June 30 to comply with a similar change being made in the state's fiscal year.

Mr. Dillon recommended the purchase of a Thermo-Fax Filmac leader-printer as a means of bringing the medical records department to a current basis and will eliminate the time-consuming process of typing copies of records from microfilm. The board adopted his recommendation.

Donald Wagner, new comptroller at the hospital, presented a brief oral report to the board and upon the recommendation of the medical staff the board appointed Dr. Samuel A. Kirkpatrick, Hanover, to the consulting staff in obstetrics and gynecology.

ON HANOVER STAFF

Dr. Kirkpatrick, who is a Gettysburg College graduate in the Class of 1938, received his M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, interned at Harrisburg and served three years in the Armed Forces Medical Corps. He has served residencies at the Yale University Hospital and the University of Virginia Hospital and was a student fellow in surgical pathology at the Mayo Clinic. He has done post graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine—in the department of obstetrics and gynecology and now is a member of the staff of the Hanover Hospital.

The board also approved installation of a communications register at the hospital to be used in conjunction with the present inter-communications system.

Heavy Snowstorm And Cold Wave Are Headed For Ohio River Valley And Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A massive snow storm plodded across the Midwest toward the Ohio River Valley and the southeastern states today.

It piled up record-breaking amounts of snow in eastern Kansas and western Missouri—an area that has taken a heavy pounding all winter. It also caused five deaths.

A cold wave was expected to thrust down across the Midwest behind the snowfall today, dropping temperatures to below zero in Kansas and Missouri and bring near-zero readings into Oklahoma, parts of Texas, Arkansas and southern Missouri.

FEAR DRIFTING

There also was danger of heavy drifting in eastern Kansas and in northwestern Missouri.

The prospects caused scores of schools in the Kansas-Missouri snow belt to remain closed. Most school children depend on buses, and officials were reluctant to expose them to the dangers of be-

Shaw proposed that all member colleges of CEEB require scholastic aptitude tests be taken by college preparatory juniors in May or at the end of the junior year.

Uniformity in testing he pointed out will eliminate much of the confusion existing among colleges and secondary schools. He also stressed the necessity of a cooperative effort being exerted to establish standardized practices as one solution to the problems faced by admission counselors.

WOLFE PRESIDES

The morning session was devoted to an analysis of admissions problems. Much of the discussion centered around multiple applications, rolling admissions policy and time of decision on acceptances.

Secondary school guidance came in for some discussion.

Charles R. Wolfe, dean of admissions, Gettysburg College, was chairman and presided over both sessions of the one-day meeting.

Approximately 150 representatives from 51 colleges and 31 secondary schools in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Paul A. Martz, Castron, to the finance committee; Gilbert McKenrick, 27 Hanover St., to the membership committee, and Donald E. Staub, Gettysburg, exhibits committee.

14 INCHES IN K. C.

Kansas City had 14 inches of new snow and a total cover of 21 inches. The city has had 30 inches this month, 8 inches more than any previous January. Since Dec. 8, Kansas City has had 47 inches of snow.

A cold wave was expected to thrust down across the Midwest behind the snowfall today, dropping temperatures to below zero in Kansas and Missouri and bring near-zero readings into Oklahoma, parts of Texas, Arkansas and southern Missouri.

FEAR DRIFTING

There also was danger of heavy drifting in eastern Kansas and in northwestern Missouri.

The prospects caused scores of schools in the Kansas-Missouri snow belt to remain closed. Most school children depend on buses, and officials were reluctant to expose them to the dangers of becoming trapped in snowdrifts. All public schools in Wichita and Kansas City were closed.

Wichita, in south central Kansas, measured 15 inches of new snow through Thursday night, on top of 2 inches of old snow. The previous record was 12 inches in the ground in Wichita March 9, 1909.

Only one highway, a state road between Cottonwood Falls and the Butler County line, was closed in Kansas. All Missouri roads were open.

The snowstorm was a factor in a two-car collision that killed four persons and injured three others near Great Bend, Kan.

U.S. PREPARED TO RECOGNIZE ISLAND REGIME

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the government newly returned to power in the Dominican Republic has ready-made U.S. recognition and will get full diplomatic and economic support from this country.

Work was resumed at the State Department and in the Agency for International Development of an aid program designed to bolster the Dominican economy.

Plans were made to clear away the last barriers to resumption of normal trade by wiping out finally the sanctions once imposed against the regime of the late dictator Rafael L. Trujillo.

Administration officials were obviously delighted at the speed with which the junta dominated by Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria was overthrown Thursday night. The development came with stunning suddenness 48 hours after the Dominican air force chief's hand-picked group had taken power upon the resignation Tuesday night of President Joaquin Balaguer.

RENEW RELATIONS

"We consider that what has occurred now is a resumption of constitutional government in the Dominican Republic," one official said.

In the State Department, the decision was to "forget about the two days they were out of power" and simply continue with the recognition previously accorded. That means a renewal of normal diplomatic relations whereas the department had threatened to deny recognition—a stronger gesture than breaking of diplomatic ties—Echavarria established a military dictatorship.

The would-be strong man was overthrown, officials said because he clearly had no base of popular support, had little if any strong backing among the military leaders and even lacked effective support among the country's top political leaders.

Rafael Bonnelly, the new president named to succeed Balaguer, is leader of the National Civic Union, a political organization regarded by U.S. officials as the main hope for development of democracy in the nation which suffered for 30 years under Trujillo dictatorship.

As former vice president under Balaguer, Bonnelly succeeds normally to the presidency upon Balaguer's resignation. Washington officials said, so that no constitutional question arises.

The new overturn exceeded even the best hopes that had been voiced privately earlier this week by U.S. officials.

MENTAL UNIT HOLDS MEETING

Joseph J. Kobulark from the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Labor and Industry addressed the Adams County Mental Health Association at its January meeting Thursday noon at the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Mr. Kobulark works with the vocational rehabilitation of persons who have been treated by the Harrisburg State Hospital.

"The employment services must realize that mental patients are suffering from a disease and should be taken back to work after recovering from breakdown, just as they would be if they had had an operation or other hospitalization. The goal is to help people back to independence," he said. He told of his work in discovering persons' interests and the use of psychological tests. In some cases he recommends additional vocational training. Such training may be given in the hospital shops or in vocational schools. When the patient is ready to go back to work, he is assisted in making suitable contacts, Mr. Kobulark said.

Many patients are able to make successful adjustments after discharge. The Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation helps with meeting physical handicaps which act as deterrents to employment, he explained.

The membership committee of the mental health association reported the following new members: Dr. and Mrs. Abdel Ross Wentz, Herbert Lins Jones and Miss Ellen R. Miller. The next meeting will be held February 15. Prof. Francis E. Reinberger will address the group on clinical training.

5 DIRECTORS

Reporting as chairman of the property committee, Don Becker told of the exterior painting and the interior redecoration at the library, the landscaping and the placing of new exterior lights and signs. The total cost of the improvements was about $2,500, Becker said, and was paid for largely by special gifts. He mentioned specially the donation of services by Charles J. Kerrigan, painter; Eugene Sickles, sign painter, and C. L. Sheads, Fairfield, who has donated shutters for the library. He said the painting and shrubbery project alone cost about $2,000 and was paid for chiefly by the Gettysburg Jaycees and the Friends of the Library.

President Pratt lauded Mrs. Wilson, the librarian, and her staff and introduced Mrs. Madeleine Killalea, new president of the Friends of the Library, who said that in the last year the "Friends" paid a $1,300 painting bill, $300 for new books for children and $39 for new shelving.

The report of the nominating committee was presented by its chairman, Mrs. Raymond Hale, Arendtsville, a member of the board, and the election followed by acclamation. The invocation was given by the Rev. W. R. Sammel. A roast beef dinner was served.

REPORT ON JAYCEES

A more detailed written report submitted by Mr. Becker showed that the Jaycees' efforts in behalf of the library began about a year and a half ago when the club undertook the removal of large maple trees in front of the library to make way for a new sidewalk which was installed according to the borough regulations to satisfy insurance requirements. Wood from the trees was cut up and hauled away by the Jaycees during the summer.

Preparations for the landscaping project got underway when a landscaping specialist from the Pennsylvania State University Extension Service provided a list of recommended nursery materials and drawing to indicate plant location. A local contractor was engaged to remove fill and replace it with top soil. Sawdust was donated by Lloyd Benner, Fairfield R. 1; fertilizer by the Central Chemical Corporation and Harry Biesecker of Cashtown donated his services and the use of his truck in hauling the sawdust. With this material mixed into the topsoil and new window wells, donated by Frank Musser and Mr. Biesecker, installed, the area was ready for planting.

Nursery stock for the library was procured from the Pencor Nurseries, Bellefonte, and the Lincolnway Nurseries, Cashtown. The myrtle used as a groundcover in the planting was donated by farmers in the Cashtown area from whose woodlots the Jaycees obtained this stock. The Jaycees have invested about $500 and uncounted man hours of effort in this community improvement project, Mr. Becker said.

Faculty members and members of the admissions and other administrative offices of the college assisted in entertaining the visitors at a coffee hour preceding the opening session at 10 a.m. in the Student Union Building.

RUSK EXPECTS AID IN PLAN TO CONDEMN CUBA

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk confidently hopes to rally strong Inter-American support next week for condemnation of Cuba as a bridgehead for Sino-Soviet "political aggression" in the Western Hemisphere.

At an Inter-American foreign minister's conference he intends to press also for agreement to impose sweeping political and economic sanctions against Cuban communism unless Prime Minister Fidel Castro breaks his close ties with the Soviet Union and Red China.

Rusk will leave Saturday night for the conference which opens Monday at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

MAY IMPOSE SANCTIONS

He told a news conference Thursday that he believes "without any doubt" the foreign ministers will review the record of events in Cuba and declare it to be "an unacceptable penetration of this hemisphere by forces from outside the hemisphere."

Apart from this prediction, Rusk declined to forecast the outcome of the meeting.

It is known that the United States hopes to obtain an agreement to impose sanctions unless Castro changes his ways. According to one U.S. formula, sanctions would be automatically instituted if after 60 days from the end of the meeting the Organization of American States did not report, by two-thirds vote, that Cuba had complied with a demand to break its Sino-Soviet ties.

As part of this same formula, the foreign ministers would agree that none of the American states, including the United States, would intervene unilaterally against Castro.

OTHER ISSUES

On other foreign policy issues, Rusk said:

1. Despite a quieting down of the Berlin crisis "a dangerous situation" remains. Talks between the U.S. Ambassador, Llewellyn Thompson, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have so far failed to bring any lessening of Soviet demands for a change in West Berlin's status. There will be one or more additional talks.

2. Prospects for an agreement among Laotian political leaders to form a neutralist coalition government in Laos are uncertain.

3. The critical issue in East-West disarmament negotiations to start March 14 will be the problem of agreement between the Western powers and the Soviet Union on an inspection system to police any disarmament accord.

Russian Composer White House Guest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian-born composer Igor Stravinsky and his wife got a front-porch welcome from President and Mrs. Kennedy before a White House dinner.

The President and First Lady went into the chilly air Thursday night to greet the Stravinskys.

The dinner was recognition in advance of the composer's 80th birthday. He will celebrate it June 17. He is in Washington to conduct performances of his opera, "Oedipus Rex."

REDS SCOFF AIRLIFT

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists today called the U.S. airlift of 6,000 troops from the United States to West Germany this week "a military trouble-making operation to increase international tension and to torpedo chances for negotiation."

The Communist party paper Nues Deutschland claimed "the greatest unrest" had been aroused among the West German population by the announcement that two of the airlifted battle groups would remain in West Germany as reinforcements.

SAVED FROM REDS

BERLIN (AP) — A West Berlin motorist swerved to avoid a rabbit Thursday night, hit two concrete posts supporting the barbed wire fence the Communists put up around West Berlin and tore down 30 feet of the wire.

The car came to a stop on East German territory, but a West Berlin police patrol and British military police hauled it back without interference from the East German border guards, the police said.

group of air force officers who resigned in December, charging Rodriguez Echavarria with dictatorial ambitions, said Rodriguez. Mendez was the real leader of that revolt.

Overloaded power lines caused the National Palace lights to flicker and the more than 200 persons jamming the small conference room looked about nervously as Bonnelly swore to uphold the constitution and carry out its democratic principles.

In Washington, officials were mum on the latest development, but the council appeared assured of full U.S. support, including trade and economic assistance.

GET GOOD SUPPORT

Quick pledges of support from the army, navy and air force lifted one great problem from the council, but many lie ahead.

When the council was installed Jan. 1, it received only lukewarm acceptance from the moderate, left-center revolutionary party and the scathing disapproval of the leftist 4th of June Movement.

The 4th of June Movement lost no time in getting its pro-Castro propaganda guns rolling again immediately after the council was restored. Its loudspeakers called on the jubilant crowd to demand the installation of a government of "national unity" and quick trial of both Balaguer and Rodriguez Echavarria as traitors.

With the exception of Balaguer, the State Council has the same membership it had before: Bonnelly, Dr. Nicolas Pichardo president of the University Professors Association and a civic union member; Eduardo R. Barreras, former president of the supreme court; Msgr. Eliseo Perez Sanchez, Roman Catholic vicar general of the nation, and businessmen Antonio Imbert and Luis Amilama Tio, the only survivors of the band that plotted the assassination last May of Dictator Rafael Trujillo.

The military junta issued a series of sweeping decrees designed to stifle opposition, but Rodriguez Echavarria was unable to maintain order. Anger was evident everywhere.

TAUNT SOLDIERS

Youths roamed the streets, setting fires and taunting soldiers. Noise bombs exploded throughout the capital. Businessmen defied the junta and shut down shops. Commercial life screeched to a halt.

The end came swiftly about 8 Thursday night, Bonnelly said, when Rodriguez Echavarria came to visit the imprisoned council members.

"While he was there a group of officers came and asked us if we were prisoners and when we said 'yes' they pointed their guns at Rodriguez Echavarria and made him prisoner," Bonnelly said. "He offered no resistance."

PHILADELPHIA WOMAN LOSES SEAT IN HOUSE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan's congressional seat will be eliminated under the reapportionment plan approved today by the Democratic City Committee.

Mrs. Granahan, a Democrat, represents Pennsylvania's Second in Philadelphia and one of 30 in the state. Under the 1960 census, Pennsylvania loses three seats.

Republican and Democratic party leaders agreed on Jan. 15 to republican district in central Pennsylvania and merging the districts of Ivor Fenton (Republican) and

NEW MYSTERY IN CURRENT CAGE SCANDAL

New Buffalo Grid Coach Optimistic

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lou Saban, new head coach of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, is optimistic about the team's future.

"We have a fine nucleus," said Saban Thursday after being hired to succeed Garrard (Buster) Ramsey, who was fired two weeks ago after two losing seasons.

Saban, who had been the Bill's director of player personnel after the AFL Boston Patriots fired him as head coach before midseason last year, described his task as "a case of improving players like our good rookies from last year."

Saban, 39, signed a one-year contract for about $20,000.

SPAHN SIGNS FOR $75,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball's only active 300-game-winner—southpaw Warren Spahn—and a right-hander who once was one of the best in the major leagues, have come to terms for this season.

Spahn signed with Milwaukee Thursday for what may make him the highest paid pitcher ever. And Robin Roberts, the once-great right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies, signed with the New York Yankees.

Spahn last season made about $75,000. He is believed to have received a raise that would make him the game's top wage-earning pitcher.

"We came to terms rather quickly," Braves President John McHale said. Spahn, who will be 41 before the season starts, admitted to being "very happy."

The previous high paid pitcher was about $80,000 to Bob Feller when he was at the peak of his career with the Cleveland Indians.

Spahn, who won 21 games last season and now has 300 for his career, led the National League with an earned run average of 3.01 last season and also led in complete games. He also pitched the only no-hitter, the second of his extraordinary career.

Roberts, 35, who won 234 games in 14 years with the Phillies, came to the Yankees Oct. 16. The purchase price was believed to have been about $22,000. The American League contract he signed Thursday is believed to call for about $30,000.

He had a 1-10 record last season, by far the worst of his career. "I just didn't have it last season," he said.

LOSE $150,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Dave Trager says his new entry in the National Basketball Association, the Chicago Packers, lost $150,000 in the first half of the season.

This book is autobiographical without being a formal story. It is largely a collection of articles which have appeared earlier in various magazines. Many experiences are related which occurred during Santha Rama Rau's travels in several parts of the world.

PRESENTS CONTRASTS

Miss Rama Rau was born in Madras, India. She is the daughter of an Indian diplomat, Sir Benegal Rama Rau. She was educated in England and America where she was graduated from Wellesley College. Her first book was published in 1945 and since that time she has written several other books. In private life she is the wife of Fabian Bowes, also a writer and an authority on the eastern theater and dance.

Miss Rau's keen observations and articulate style can scarcely fail to keep the reader interested and entertained for she is well able to interpret the east to the west.

EXOTIC PLACES

She writes about exotic places and about unusual happenings. In the chapter called "The Missionary" she gives a picture of a stranded woman who has been a missionary in China for many years and whose life has been hard but completely dedicated. The description is candid but also written with compassion and understanding. Miss Rau describes her opponent by 5,402 votes.

On election day, Tanney, a Republican, defeated his Democratic opponent, defeated his Democratic BATHROLOGY. As a first step to grooming, nothing can take the place of a daily bath. But if you make a ritual, rather than a quick routine of tubbing, the benefits multiply. Then it provides a beauty treatment and a rest cure.

The essentials of a beauty-rest bath are some well-chosen accessories and some special techniques. An outline of them follows:

Trace Unrest To "Lack" Of Relationship With Almighty

REV. DR. O. D. COBLE
Pastor, Bendersville Lutheran
Charge

WHAT LIFE REVEALS

Much of the unrest, dissatisfaction and uncertainty which are prevalent among people of almost every walk in life arises because a vital relationship with God is lacking. The person concerned has never learned the secret which every Christian cherishes, a personal knowledge and experience of Christ. They lack foundation upon which they can stand or a faith to which they can cling. They are like a leaf tossed by the wind or a ship without an anchor. Life to them at its best is simply a passing of days without hope and without meaning. But God surely never intended life to be like that.

A thousand things point to the love and mercy of a gracious God Who gave man a veritable paradise in which to live. One must be bereft of all understanding if he cannot sense in the stars at night, or the glorious things of day that God is the Creator and Author of all. I've watched the sun rise out of the ocean and then at the close of day I've seen it sink in the West and I thought of God. Or I've seen the beautiful lights by night steal out of the north and produce a beauty and pattern which man could never produce or match and again I find myself thinking of God and I am grateful that I have a humble part in His great creation. I'm grateful to God for the depth and vastness of life and that One greater than man rules the destiny of the world. From Him I can expect only goodness all my life. Even though we err as humans, God, give us grace to repent as a man.

"Some Helpful Ideas About Schoolwork"

Tuesday 9:00 A.M.

WGET (1320 kc)

found an altar with this inscription, "To the unknown God." He then proceeded to declare God unto them. These people were exceedingly careful. Thinking that some how they might have offended some god by not paying him proper respect they erected an altar to the "unknown God." No such altar can be found in any community of my knowledge. But we have instead churches only partly filled. People have no real concern about their relationship to God. In time of peril or great danger they may pause to remember. I recall how home on leave during the past World War I chanced by a certain church in a large city. It was the noon hour and I was surprised to see the great number of people entering it for meditation. Since then I've passed the same church. The war is over and the crowds are gone. Not one person was to be seen on its steps. Possibly you call it dreaming but I saw there an "altar to the unknown God." Surely those who had entered previously during the war had no more idea of God than the Athenians whom we call in our lives.

NEED AWAKENING

I think we need to be awakened, to really meet the man of Galilee, because to some of us He can't have too much meaning or we would not treat Him the way we do.

In the TV program, Hennessey, Jackie Cooper says to Martha

Dalton, in the exchange of Christmas gifts when she protested he could not afford it, "If love were money I could afford it." If this is true of human relationships it is also true of our relationship to God. Our response, not simply the things which we give, but especially the way we live, is a true picture of the place God has in our lives.

What shall we say of the unrest, the dissatisfaction and uncertainty of this day? Shall we plead ignorance when almost every one is free to confess, "I know it's my fault! I must change my ways!" Most of us haven't a shadow of an excuse. We are reaping what we have sown and we shall continue to reap the same until we are really willing to face life God's way. For some of us it may take a tragedy to awaken us. As for our nation our very prosperity can be our undoing.

OWE ALL TO GOD

As a people we can forget that it is to God we owe all we enjoy and possess. So many times an individual who has been active and devoted to his church assumes a place of importance or by his own endeavor has become successful and in no time he is no longer active. He has other gods and other altars.

The rank and file are no better. They are confused and bewildered by a lot of unimportant things which seem to have public approval. They lack the courage and indeed the faith to follow the light and in the foot steps of the One Who came that all might have life and have it more abundantly. It is easy to do the right thing, to be the right kind of a person, and each of us has it within ourselves to be what we hope to be. But God must come first! How wonderful that when God is first then life unfolds in all its beauty to us.

The tears and heartaches are for the most our own, doing and choosing. There is a better way. That way is ours through Jesus Christ. As the Psalmist said "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." So Jesus Christ is "the Way, the Truth and the Life."

DAVID'S First STEP

The first step is a thrilling moment! An exciting new world is opening up for David. Soon he will be able to chase a butterfly, explore the old apple tree, play with Tommy and Mary next door.

The first step is the hardest. David needs the encouragement of Daddy's waiting arms. The second step will be easier. Soon David will be skipping about like a lamb.

The first step to Sunday School and church will be another thrilling moment in David's life. This first step will be hard for a shy little boy. David will need the encouragement of Mommy and Daddy. Soon he will be asking to go to Sunday School.

An exciting new world

President Kennedy Appears To Have More Confidence, Is Less Cocksure, But Keeps Courage After First Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 12 months now, John Fitzgerald Kennedy has wrestled with world problems fused with dangers of war.

He has had to cope, too, with weighty, though largely overshadowed, domestic affairs.

This somewhat secondary role for home front matters is mirrored in President Kennedy's assessment of the most rewarding and disappointing events that confronted him in his first year in the White House.

He put it into two long sentences at a news conference Monday:

BIG DISAPPOINTMENT

"Well, I would say the most disappointing event was our failure to get an agreement on the cessation of nuclear testing, because I think that that might have been a very important step in easing the tension and preventing a proliferation of the weapons, and also in making more possible for us to progress on disarmament and some of the other matters that divide us."

"The thing that I think is the most heartening is the fact that . . . there is a greater surge for unity in the Western nations, and in our relations with Latin America, and also I think it has become more obvious that people do desire to be free and independent."

Naturally these and other events of the year gone by have affected the 44-year-old chief executive. They have brought changes in the man and around the man who just a year ago Saturday took the presidential oath and then set out to break trail along the New Frontier.

The changes in Kennedy pertained the greatest personal satisfaction from building up the national defense and from the administration's soft-sell approach to Congress.

The bolstering of the military, from missiles down to conventional weapons and manpower, in effect drew a line and told Russia any attempt to step across it would mean trouble.

On the matter of attempting to ram his program through Congress—he got some major items and missed on some—Kennedy was under pressure from men around him to go over the heads of the legislators directly to the voters. He decided against it, partly to reserve this stratagem for some major crisis, if necessary.

STAMINA, COURAGE

He has gained these and other qualities, including stamina and courage, during a year in which both advances and setbacks stood out like milestones along the new front—as they have in most administrations.

The man in the White House doesn't look much different after a trying year. He is a little leaner. He has a little more salting of grey in his light brown hair. He seems a little less cocksure now, a bit more cautious, sober and reflective than he was on that day a year ago when he embarked on the climactic phase of a carefully planned political career that brought him swiftly to the top.

SOMBER, CONFIDENT

From the front of the majestic capitol, in a bright sun that had dispelled a howling blizzard, the new president spoke. He summoned his fellow Americans to pay any price, bear any burden, to defend freedom "in its hour of maximum danger."

He was somber but confident then. He appears to have more confidence now, a confidence heightened by experience, learning and a conviction that he enjoys far more public support than he had in the hour of what he calls his "gnat's eyelash" election victory.

If international crises and domestic issues weren't enough, there were personal woes and illnesses to plague the President during the year gone by.

HAD ILLNESSES

Kennedy's 73-year-old father still is partly paralyzed from a stroke. Kennedy himself fought a cold and a virus, gashed his forehead near his eye brow on a table, and still favors a wrenched back that put him on crutches for weeks.

A medical checkup Dec. 28 produced word that the bad back, strained in a tree-planting ceremony in Canada last May, is stronger, but that there will be ups and downs and setbacks.

He still is vigorous, restless, a man on the go. He still has a warmth and friendliness toward ordinary people, a sparkling wit, human touches.

ATTACK BY GOP

The Cuban invasion debacle—Kennedy took full blame for the blunder—unquestionably was the greatest mistake and taught the hardest lesson of the first year. Kennedy encountered probably his greatest disappointment in Vienna, where he found Soviet Premier Khrushchev as difficult as he thought he might be but hoped he wouldn't be.

Persons in daily contact with the chief executive say he got three real lifts toward the close of the year.

RED INTERVIEW

One was his trip to Venezuela and Colombia. It gave him a feeling that things were moving again in this hemisphere. Another was an interview, given to a Soviet editor, a son-in-law of Khrushchev. It penetrated the Iron Curtain and, the White House believes, impressed people around the world with the way Kennedy handled the questions and answers.

Perhaps the biggest morale booster was the come-from-behind Democratic victory in the New Jersey gubernatorial election in November. A Democratic defeat would have been interpreted as something of a Kennedy defeat, since he was interested in the campaign on the one side and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his predecessor, on the other.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

One close associate of the President thinks Kennedy has obtained the greatest personal satisfaction from building up the national defense and from the administration's soft-sell approach to Congress.

The bolstering of the military, from missiles down to conventional weapons and manpower, in effect drew a line and told Russia any attempt to step across it would mean trouble.

On the matter of attempting to ram his program through Congress—he got some major items and missed on some—Kennedy was under pressure from men around him to go over the heads of the legislators directly to the voters. He decided against it, partly to reserve this stratagem for some major crisis, if necessary.

Perhaps Kennedy didn't come up to some expectations in the matter of leadership. He had campaigned long and hard with contentions the country was stalled on dead center and promised to get it moving again. So there were those who looked for some spectacular, flamboyant action.

But flashy action would have been a bit out of character for Kennedy. There was nothing in his background to suggest he would resort to it.

ROOMMATE RULE

Many of the President's most trusted associates from the old days now are on the White House staff—"government by college roommate," the Republicans say.

This points up another change in Kennedy's method of operation, rather than in the man. Kennedy handles the questions and answers primarily on 17 men for advice and help. He has whittled the total down from about twice that number.

The 17 are the hard core of men in whom Kennedy has the greatest trust and confidence. Among them are seven holdovers from the political campaign or earlier days.

They are special counsel Theodore C. Sorenson and his assistant, Myer Feldman; special assistants Kenneth P. O'Donnell, Lawrence F. O'Brien and Ralph A. Dungan; press secretary Pierre Salinger, and, of course, brother Robert F. Kennedy, the attorney general.

FIVE NEWCOMERS

The newcomers of the last year include five Cabinet members: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The remaining five are Budget Director David E. Bell; the military aide, Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton; the military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor; McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs, and Walter W. Heller, chairman of the council of economic advisers.

WHITE HOUSE CHANGES

Look around the White House and there is plenty of evidence of other changes and innovations.

The executive mansion is a more informal place these days. Yet it is more elegant in some ways and has more of an air of history.

Mrs. Kennedy has done over and refurbished, with paint, wallpaper, carpets, art and antiques. Guests have heard Shakespeare, a symphony and cellist Pablo Casals.

Then there is 4-year-old Caroline Kennedy, who is "Buttons" to the President and is a national sweetheart to the rest of the country.

And John Fitzgerald Jr., born just two months before Kennedy took office, now is a real competitor for presidential attention.

MANY YANKS VISIT SHRINES IN MANY LANDS

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—More and more Americans are combining travel with religion.

They are going, Bible in hand, to Old Jerusalem and Bethlehem in Jordan, to Galilee and Nazareth in Israel. And they are going to Europe as well—to see the shrines at Lourdes, Fatima, Rome, Assisi, Padua, Paray le Monial.

Approximately 20,000 Americans went to the Holy Land in 1960 and 21,000 in 1961. David Lee, director of religious travel for American Express Travel Service, reports: "I think it would be conservative to say there will be between an 8 to 10 per cent increase over 1961 this year."

CATHOLIC INTEREST

Tom Broderick, director of the Guild of Catholic Travel says, "There are no official figures of the number of Catholics traveling. But interest in Catholic pilgrimages and Catholic-interest tours to Europe and the Holy Land have expanded considerably over the past few years."

"I would say they're increasing at a greater rate than general-interest travel is."

"We had a very, very active year in 1960—with the passion play at Oberammergau, an international eucharistic congress in Munich and the Olympic games in Rome. There's always an anteclimax in Catholic travel after a big year. I think '62 will be almost as good as '60."

RELIGION, HISTORY

Broderick adds that most American Catholics touring Europe combine their visits to shrines with stops of historic, scenic and cultural interest.

A study done for the Jordan Tourism Information Service notes that in Jordan, most visitors are interested primarily in the holy places. However, a high percentage don't stay more than two or three days in the country because they are on world tours.

Studies indicate that most of the religious travelers are from small towns, are women, and are over 50 years of age.

But of course there are many exceptions. "On our shorter tours—three weeks for example—we get younger people, often from offices," Lee says.

PLAN TO DRILL NEW OIL WELL 12,000 FEET

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP)—The Minard Run Oil Co. plans to drill the deepest well in the history of the Bradford oil field—some 11,000 to 12,000 feet deep—a few miles south of the city.

Company President F. Wayne Fesemeyer said Thursday drilling will start next month as part of a $400,000 exploration of deep-lying oil and gas deposits. The deep drilling will probe the "Beekmantown strata," some 10,000 feet down.

The region's oil-bearing sand once was the world's biggest producer of crude oil. Today, the average well in the Bradford area is about 1,600 feet deep, with some going to 2,100 feet.

WAS BIG PRODUCER

The Bradford field produced most of the world supply in the late 1800s. In the 1920s, as the deposits dwindled, the Bradford area developed and used the method of forcing water down the well to float the petroleum within reach of the pumps.

Using this "secondary recovery" method, the Bradford field supplied close to 50 per cent of the state's crude oil production last year.

The Minard Run company, a family-owned corporation with unlisted stock, is one of the state's oldest oil companies and a pioneer in the Bradford oil fields.

The deep-well project is a pioneering venture into what may be a valuable new oil field, lying almost two miles beneath the old one.

The Adelie penguin is only half as large as the four-foot-tall emperor, and it is much more lively, mischievous, playful and curious than the dignified emperor.

FIVE-HOUR DAY ACHIEVED BY ELECTRICANS

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's $1.25-billion-a-year construction industry was booming again today after an eight-day strike by union electricians who won a basic five-hour day.

Contractors Thursday shut down the bulk of the work under way in the city.

The strike involving 9,000 electricians was settled Thursday night and men in all construction crafts were called back to work today.

100,000 IDLED

An overwhelming majority of 1,000 members who were at a dinner of the Building Trades Employers Association booted loudly when the settlement was announced.

H. Earl Fullilove, board chairman of the association, later gave an estimate—a "guess at best"—that half of the city's 200,000 construction workers had been laid off for the one day. The employers promised them the day's pay.

Chiefs of the city's Central Labor Council, representing AFL-CIO unions, congratulated Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers on winning a five-hour day.

MORE TO ASK IT

The council said in a telegram to the local: "This victory will have profound influence on national thinking on automation and full employment. Only the shorter work week can end joblessness of millions of our fellow citizens."

Who Accomplishes Most?

The always-busy person doesn't always get the most done. Efficiency counts, at home as well as in business—and nothing makes for greater budget-record-keeping efficiency than a checking account. Stubs are records; cancelled checks are receipts. Why not start your account soon, at our bank?

and your victory is certain to lead to immediate and successful attempts to cut the work week so that we may achieve a full employment economy."

The council said its shorter work week and automation committee has called on all affiliated unions to make the shorter week part of their demands in every contract negotiation.
